Anthem of the Liberty of Lies Society

"O Glorious Lies"

(To be sung boldly, off-key if necessary)

Verse 1:
O land where truth dare not reside,
Where facts are wrapped in gilded pride,
We hail thee now with earnest grin,
Our tales begin where truths wear thin.

Through tangled myths and shifting sand,
We rise, absurd, a fearless band!
We pledge our hearts, we close our eyes—
To thee, sweet land of noble lies!

Chorus:
All hail the tale! The twist, the tale!
Our stories bold shall never pale!
With crooked smile and flag unfurled,
We laugh and lie across the world!
Deceive with grace!
The lie we live, we dare embrace!

Verse 2:
From whispered truths we learned to stray,
Our fables lead a brighter way.
Why cling to stone, when clouds will do?
A shifting sky, a softer view.

We honor all who reimagine,
Who forge new paths through clever passion.
A fiction born beneath our skies—
We thrive beneath constructed skies.

Chorus (repeat):
All hail the tale! The twist, the tale!
Our stories bold shall never pale!
With crooked smile and flag unfurled,
We laugh and lie across the world!
Deceive with grace!
The lie we live, we dare embrace!

Bridge (spoken in echoing unison):
"We are the lie they feared would rise—
We are the mask behind the eyes—
We are the myth that built the throne—
We are the truth, but not your own."

Final Chorus (slow and majestic):
So raise the glass, distort the sky!
Let every truth be taught to fly!
In lies, we revise—
The world is ours… through grandest lies!
